Redirect chains 1 link

Review all redirect chains reported below and fix them where possible, because long chains of redirects consume your crawl budget, slow down your site's load speed, and, as a result, may negatively impact your site visitors' experience. You may want to redirect each URL in the chain to your final destination page.

ⓘ SSL-related issues 1 issue

Website security is an important ranking factor for Google. There are some common SSL errors that can cause browsers to warn users that your website is not secure. We have found the following SSL-related issues:

Issue:	Description:
HSTS is not supported	HSTS (HTTP Strict Transport Security) secure protocol informs browsers that your website should be only accessed over HTTPS encryption. This helps ensure the visitors are directed to the secure version of your website. To protect your site users we recommend that you enable HTST support on your website server.

🚩 Links with a 302 Redirect 4 links

Review all links with a 302 Redirect and change them to a target page URL or a 301 Redirect where possible, because a 302 Redirect means that the change is temporary and thus search engines won't remove the old page from their index and won't pass its value (link juice) to a new page.
